Police step up search for redways sex beast

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE are hunting a man in connection with three serious sexual assaults on women on the redways.

Patrols have been stepped up on the city's redway network and a dedicated team of detectives set up to investigate the cases.

The victims of the attacks were lone women, the youngest aged 15.

The incidents happened on redways in the north and south of Milton Keynes, one in broad daylight.

The latest took place last Friday (June 5) at 10pm a 15-year-old girl was walking along the redway known as Railway Walk, Great Linford between the Black Horse pub and Gifford Park, when she was pushed from behind, sexually assaulted and money taken.

The first attack was on Saturday, May 2 at 5.25am when a woman in her 30s walking along the redway near Barry Avenue, Bradville was sexually assaulted and robbed of her handbag.

A 50-year-old woman suffered a similar attack in daylight on Wednesday, May 27 while she was walking along Bond Avenue in Mount Farm.

As she approached the redway near Marlborough Street at around 5pm she was approached by a man who attempted to rape her and stole her handbag.

Police have released a description of the offender as a white man who is slim, aged between his late teens and 35-years-old, of short to average height and wearing casual clothes. A baseball cap has been mentioned by some witnesses.

Det Ch Insp Joe Kidman said: "At this stage we are investigating these serious sexual assaults as linked offences. However, we won't know for sure if this is the same offender until we catch him.

"We have a dedicated team of detectives working on these cases. I would ask anyone who was near to the scene of these offences when they took place to think back and contact us if they remember anything which may help the investigation."

Ch Insp Paul Bradford, operational support for Milton Keynes added: "We would advise women to take sensible steps to keep safe and walk home with friends or colleagues.

"Extra patrols are taking place along the redways and we are working with our partners Milton Keynes Council to ensure their grounds staff who work in these areas are fully briefed on the description of the offender."

■ Anyone with information about these incidents can call the Major Crime Incident Room at Bletchley Police Station on 08458 505505, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Milkbar out to cause a shake

A NEW drinks bar is to shake up the city centre.

ShakeAway opened a milkshake shop in Midsummer Place on Saturday.

The fast growing chain was founded ten years ago in Bournemouth when Peter Moody and Rob Hazell started blending their favourite chocolate bars with milk and ice cream to create personalised milkshakes.

The menu now contains over 150 ingredients including branded chocolate such as Ferrero Rocher, Twix and Cadbury's Creme Egg, sweets, cakes and baked goodies.

Sarah Zeroual runs the Milton Keynes franchise with her husband Khalid.

She said: "We decided to open the shop here in Milton Keynes as it is such a beautiful city centre and there is nothing like this here."

Tesco protesters out to cause a stir

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

BOND, James Bond, was the theme when campaigners took their fight against Tesco to Milton Keynes Council last night.

Members of TESNO, the group opposing a store being built on the former Aston Martin site in Newport Pagnell, donned dinner jackets and black dresses for the full council meeting.

Some arrived in an Aston Martin DB7, in the style of the fictional secret agent whose cars were supplied by the Tickford Street-based firm.

TESNO chairman Tom Lonergan hoped his rousing speech would leave councillors not just stirred but shaken into opposing the planning application.

He presented them with 2,000 letters and 2,000 signatures of opposition.

TESNO argue that granting planning permission to a 15,000 sq ft shop would give the retail giant 'licence to kill' the high street.

They believe that, with one Tesco in Newport Pagnell already and 16 others across the city, another one is not needed.

"A Tesco in this residential area will severely damage the quality of life of residents, with traffic, noise and light pollution," said Mr Lonergan.

"Approving this Tesco just a half a mile from our High Street will pull the centre of activity and the footfall away from the retail centre of town and the High Street business will be pulled away with it. That loss of vital business will be the nail in the coffin of our High Street."

He told MK NEWS: "We have come to the council to enlighten them. This isn't a new estate that needs a local centre, it's a historic market town mentioned in the Domesday Book. We've got unique heritage in Newport that nowhere else in Milton Keynes has."

Eoin Dardis, Tesco corporate affairs manager, said residents should be given the opportunity to shop locally.

"Everybody has the right to express their views on our proposals and, as we have promised, we are continuing to engage and have constructive meetings with local stakeholders, representatives and residents about how our plans for Newport Pagnell might evolve."

Council leader Sam Crooks was 'delighted' to see the campaigners. "This is a huge issue for Newport Pagnell and the council must be fully involved."

TK MAXX to move into old Woolies store

TK MAXX is to take over the old Woolworths store in thecentre:mk.

The retailer told MK NEWS yesterday that its new shop will open in late summer, creating around 80 new jobs in the area.

The shop, which sells designer goods at discounted prices, will occupy 22,000 sq ft of retail space in thecentre:mk. It is one of 50 new shops the retailer plans to open taking its total to 275 in the UK and Ireland.

The store has been empty since Woolworths, which had traded in thecentre:mk since the shopping centre opened in 1979, closed its shutters for the final time on January 3 after the national chain folded. Sixty staff lost their jobs.

Robert Goodman, centre director at thecentre:mk, said: "To secure a letting such as TK Maxx for the unit vacated by Woolworths is great news for thecentre:mk and Milton Keynes as a retail destination. The jobs created will be of great significance to Milton Keynes and we can't wait for the store to open in the summer."

The news comes days after TK Maxx announced that its distribution centre in Mount Farm will be moved to Poland, with a loss of up to 275 jobs although 175 workers will be offered other jobs at centres in Wakefield, Stoke and Walsall.

House raids see cops wage war on drugs users

Police make simultaneous swoops as advice is dispensed to city shoppers

Police effect an entry to a house on Browns Wood during operation Druid

THE war on illegal drugs was stepped up this week as police and health services joined a national crackdown.

Police used drug warrants to raid homes across the city yesterday and the Community Safety Partnership (CSP) raised awareness as part of National Tackling Drugs Week.

At 8am officers launched a series of raids under Operation Druid, starting with a three-bedroom house in Burnstein Close, Browns Wood,

They found home-grown cannabis, dried cannabis leaves hidden inside books and hydroponic equipment which can be used to cultivate the Class B drug.

The owner had also used cannabis leaves to decorate bedroom wallpaper.

The warrant was aimed at finding Class A drugs but none were discovered.

PC Rob Snell said: "We have recovered drugs so it's a success.

"There are drugs in use in that house and in the past they've cultivated drugs in that house."

He said that depending on what else is discovered, the woman occupant could be eligible for a caution.

Minutes later, another team raided a home in Masons, Stantonbury and arrested a man on suspicion of possession with intent to supply Class A and Class B drugs.

Officers found a bag containing what is thought to be approximately 30 ecstasy tablets, and a bag of cocaine hidden inside a locked cash box.

Help of another sort was also available in the city centre on Monday as groups including the Community Drugs and Alcohol Centre offered shoppers information about their services.

CDAC provides free, confidential advice for people suffering problems due to drug and alcohol misuse.

David, who had problems with heroin, crack and alcohol, referred himself to CDAC when his problems began to impact on his job.

He was placed on an opiate substitute treatment programme, assigned a specialist drug worker, and managed to beat his addiction over eight years.

David said: "I don't think I'd have been able to make the difficult decisions I did without it.

"When you're in that situation, living day-to-day with addiction and the withdrawal symptoms, it can feel like there's no way out."

Pros and cons of wheelie bins

SIR – In response to the letter of Richard Lines regarding rubbish

I moved from London to Luton and then MK and have been in MK for approx four years, (love everything about the new city except the bin thing) and I totally agree with the bin suggestion.

I spent the first year here sweeping up the rubbish after animals had been at the bags and, after having a wheelie bin in Luton, it was a bit behind the times.

All my friends and family from other areas cannot believe that we dont have wheelie bins.

We have now purchased a large wheelie bin ourselves and keep our rubbish in this until bin day when we just empty it out into the street.

But it would be easier just putting the bin out.

Come on MK Council get with the times – ask me if I want one.

Christine Sandilands
Leafield Rise, Two Mile Ash

Recycling grants mean rubbish bags will remain

SIR – In response to Richard Lines' request for views on the use of bin bags in MK (Letters last week) I couldn't agree more.

Having moved from Northamptonshire only three years ago myself, I was appalled to come home every Friday night to find my local community strewn with rubbish.

I'm told by sources inside the council that its reluctance to introduce wheelie-bins is because this would end the current black and pink bag recycling system and so the council would lose the grants that it receives for meeting Government recycling targets.

As anyone in business will tell you 'what gets measured gets done' and the real lunatic aspect of the current scheme is that it only seems to measure the number of pink and black bags sent to the (same) landfill site rather than anything that is actually related to keeping our city clean.

Richard Hughes
Loughton

■ SIR – In answer to the letter from Richard Lines of Great Holm.

I agree in principle that wheelie bins are a much better way of keeping rubbish, but unfortunately not everyone uses them as they should.

When I lived in Luton, as I was going to work, you would see wheelie bins left out on the pavement for the whole week as people were too lazy to take them in and put them out at the correct time.

If the council put a fine in place for residents that left their bins out that might work.

Joy Darkes
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – In reply to the letter from Richard Lines with regard to wheelie bins.

I, too, asked several years ago about the possibility of having bins in MK and was given the same reason.

However, I have lived in MK for 35 years and I cannot recal any survey about bins and, anyway, I very much expect that public opinion would be ignored no matter what a survey said.

William Grist
Portchester Court, Great Holm

■ SIR – Having read Richard Lines' s e-mail in MK NEWS, I would like to back his views.

Black (or pink for that matter) rubbish bags are very unsightly, heavy to lift and should be replaced with wheelie bins.

Very often, bags are left out on the street too early (overnight or days too early), attracting animals who tear them open.

It is disgusting and attracts rats, not to mention the need to clean up. On one occasion, I saw bags in the middle of the road, preventing cars from passing through.

Wheelie bins would be easier to place outside homes, not to mention quicker (and safer) for the bin collectors to lift onto their trucks (this is how it's done on the continent by the way – the trucks are equipped to lift up wheelie bins).

Another argument would be the fact that wheelie bins are surely more eco-friendly than bags.

Can I also say that in the 12 years I have been living in Milton Keynes, I have never received any survey on the subject of wheelie bins, nor have my friends and colleagues who live in other parts of the city.

I realise that not everyone might be able to afford a wheelie bin in these difficult times but, like Mr Lines, I would make the effort to buy one if given the choice.

Name and address supplied

■ SIR – At 81 years of age, I don't want to have to handle heavy wheelie bins.

I don't want to have hassle from the Binmen Stasi if I don't close the lid properly, place it two inches from where is should be, put the wrong sort of rubbish in it, or forget which week they are going to collect it .

And I certainly don't have to pay for a service which has already been paid for by my council tax.

Leave our system alone. It works fine.

Kenneth Newton
Bletchley

Delayed reaction

SIR – Why does it take representation from an MP or indeed anyone else to get any improvement on the trains.

It must have been obvious to the train operators and their crews that there was a problem with this service being overcrowded and London Midland should have moved earlier.

Rather than being allowed to claim credit for listening to the passengers Mr Banaghan and London Midland should be castigated for slothful indifference.

There is no mention of rolling stock being taken away from other services so I hope that other passengers are not now suffering in place of the 09.21 passengers.

Name and address supplied

A flu buddy is not to be sneezed at

SIR – In response to A Davis' letter 'Flu buddy? Not me!' (MK NEWS last week), I would like to clarify the purpose of a flu buddy.

The idea of a flu buddy is that if you get ill in a pandemic you have someone who is not ill who would collect your antiviral medications for you and perhaps pop to the shops for some groceries, which means you can stay at home and not spread the virus to others.

If you are a flu buddy, it's suggested you leave the medicines and groceries on the front doorstep and speak to the affected person on the telephone, so there is no need for personal contact or risk of spreading the virus further.

Your flu buddy can be anybody you trust, as you'll need to share with them some personal information that a medical professional would need to know before prescribing antiviral medicine.

It's best that you think about it now, before the next flu season arrives in the autumn/winter.

Deputy director of public health
NHS Milton Keynes

Unused car park

SIR – There has been a coverage recently about parking problems in Bletchley, with people getting clamped in various locations and having to pay 'silly money' to get the clamp removed.

I do not park in the town, but I do know that parking in and around the town centre is a problem and not getting any easier.

So perhaps someone from our wonderful council can tell us why the car park in Princes Way, by the leisure centre, has been standing blocked off and unused since the Autumn of 2008?

It could have been put back in to use on a temporary basis until it was needed by the developers, it would not have cured the parking problems but it would certainly have helped a lot.

There is no sense in having a blocked off car park so close to the main shopping street – where parking spaces are short – while people are suffering the annoyance of parking wardens and clampers in other car parks in the town.

Peter Walduck
Ashfield Grove, Bletchley

Danger play

SIR – Regarding Oxley Park. The proposed space for the play area is in fact right next to the H6.

Who on earth thought it was a good idea to put it in such dangerous place?.

The council told me it would be safe as they ensure there was a fence round it. Will that stop a ball from going onto the H6 and a child from running after it?

I dont think so.

What an ideal place for someone to abduct a child – nobody can see them and on a main road too. Excellent!

We are not opposed to Charles Church building the seven homes, just not there.

Why can't the homes go next to the H6 and the green stay where it is. Loads of the residents use our green to play with their children and we do a lot of community things such as barbecues, picnics and little football matches.

Why, once again, are they trying to destroy our lovely little community?

Deena Ronnie
Sent by e-mail

In praise of MPs

SIR – While it may not be fashionable, may I offer my thanks to both of our MPs for their efforts in representing Milton Keynes?

I was pleased to see that neither has been embroiled in the expenses scandal and both continue to enjoy a reputation for trying to do their best in representing the city.

Dr Starkey, I know, has always been active in the Council of Faiths and my own MP Mark Lancaster has been tremendous in getting the Government to change its mind over building East of the M1.

John, Olney

Bells appeal: Olney residents turn out to see the restored church bells paraded through the town

Ding-dong day as bells come home

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

PEOPLE lined the streets of Olney to welcome home ancient church bells that have been restored to their former glory.

The eight bells were toured around the town on Friday before being returned to the Church of St Peter and St Paul ten months after they were lowered from the tower to be restored.

Some were in use when anti-slavery campaigner, and author of the hymn Amazing Grace, John Newton was curate at the church in the late 1700s.

The old bells were restored by Whites of Appleton bell hangers, near Abingdon, before being transported to London to be retuned at a foundry.

Two new treble bells will also be hung alongside them.

On Friday police escorted the bells through Olney as they were displayed on a low loader lorry and taken to be admired by pupils at Ousedale School, Olney Middle School and down the High Street before being delivered to the Grade One listed church.

Reverend Clare Wood, rector of the church, said: "We've had real problems, the original frame was creaky and the bells were tuned to a discordant note. Now we are once more going to be chiming for the rest of the town to hear."

The bells are being rehung in their new frame this week, where they will be linked to TV monitors to enable visitors to see them while they are being rung.

The first session of full open ringing will be at the church's Cherry Fair on Saturday, June 27 and on Saturday, July 11 the bells will be rededicated by the Bishop of Buckingham.

The project was funded by the Olney Bells Appeal and a grant of £35,500 from the Heritage Lottery Fund plus £20,000 from Bucks Historic Churches Trust.

Reassurance on knife crime

THE city's police chief has reiterated the 'rarity' of knife crime in Milton Keynes after 11 incidents have been reported since January.

Last week two teenagers were taken to hospital with stab wounds.

Speaking about the incident Thames Valley Police said 'thankfully incidents involving knives are extremely rare in Milton Keynes'.

Since January the force has put out appeals for 11 knife crimes in the city. In three cases, victims were slashed or stabbed.

Chief Superintendent Alan Baldwin says that there were 87 offences where a knife was seen or used between April 2008 and April 2009. This averages at between seven and eight such crimes each month.

However, he argues that because knife crime equates to 0.3 per cent of all crime, it is extremely rare'.

Mr Baldwin said that since a 'spike' in knife crime in March 2009 was tackled, the number of offences remains 'a tiny proportion of all reported crime' - three per cent of all violent and domestic related incidents.

He said: "There were 23 injuries as a result of knives being used in non-domestic crime over the last year, this is 23 too many and we are working tirelessly to reduce and eradicate this. We have increased the numbers of public appeals for these kinds of crimes as this fits in with my overall view that the public must be told, where at all possible, of what's going on in Milton Keynes. The police cannot be successful in fighting crime alone, local people have a vital role to play."

One victim of knife violence, aged 51, said: "I think that 11 knife incidents since January is a lot. It's 11 families that are affected, not just 11 victims.

"If you talk to some of the youngsters on the street in Milton Keynes, knife crime's part of young people's lives now."

Bookie robber jailed

A 27-YEAR-OLD man from Milton Keynes has been jailed for ten years after holding up a bookmakers with a gun.

Luke Chaplin, of no fixed abode, was sentenced at Peterborough Crown Court for robbery and having a firearm with intent to commit an offence.

Chaplin entered Corals bookmakers in Whaddon Way, Bletchley, at 9.30pm on Thursday, October 9, 2008 and threatened a member of staff with a gun, forcing them to hand over a bag containing £1,500 in cash.

Carnival spirit survives rain

RAIN did not stop play at West Bletchley Carnival on Saturday.

Despite early drizzle crowds lined the route for the parade before thousands took in the sights and sounds at Rickley Park.

In the best floats competition judges chose St Thomas Aquinas School as the winner for the Arts Workshop Trophy (Supported by Festive Road), First Saints Scout Group as the Most Original Entry and the winner of the Independent Class was Diamond School of Performing Arts.

Lots of money was raised by local charities with this year's nominated charity Bletchley Park Trust.

■ The weather was blamed for a mishap in which a 'freak gust of wind' sent a member of the Royal Artillery Parachute Display Team into the crowd instead of the arena, bottom left. An 11-year-old girl suffered bruising and was treated by the first aid team on site.

Dying tree to live on as sculpture

A DYING tree in a churchyard may be commemorated with a sculpture made from its own trunk.

The 130-year-old cedar tree, which, at 90ft tall, towers above Holy Trinity Church in Old Wolverton, has been killed by an infestation of aphids.

The tree is one of a pair which flank the entrance to the church and must now be reduced by 40 per cent.

The church committee hopes to keep the trunk in its position and create a 35ft sculpture symbolising the Holy Trinity. It also plans to use the branches for benches and smaller works of art to place around the church gardens and to make devotional items like crosses.

Committee member Roger Wythe said: "We have got thoughts of trying to have a use for every part of it to celebrate what the tree has meant to people and the part it has played in their lives."

The other tree in the pair is also infected but it is hoped it will survive with a new form of treatment.

■ The church is looking for help funding the project and is calling for people to contribute ideas. Call Roger Wythe on 01908 564562.

Tories top Euro poll

UKIP took advantage as voters turned against Labour in the European elections.

The United Kingdom Independence Party received more votes than Labour to take second place in Milton Keynes but there was no change in the number of seats held by each party in the region.

The South East has four Conservative MEPs, two Liberal Democrat, two United Kingdom Independence Party, one Labour and one Green, the same as in the last elections of 2004.

In Milton Keynes 32.85 per cent of the electorate voted, which is more than 4.5 per cent lower that the regional average and the city's turnout in 2004.

The Tories received the most votes in the city at 15,650, an increase of 257 from the last elections.

In second place was UKIP at 9,713, dropping 923 votes but overtaking Labour who lost 4,673 votes to come third with 8,070.

The Liberal Democrats received 6,459 votes, 1,863 fewer than in 2004, and The Green Party gained 1,507 more votes to keep fifth place with 5,629.

Dr Phyllis Starkey, Labour MP for Milton Keynes South West said: "It was an extremely disappointing result for the Labour Party. It was very clear from the feedback I was getting on doorsteps on the day that a lot of Labour voters were extremely angry about the expenses scandal and were using the opportunity to send a message, either by not voting at all or by voting for one of the fringe parties, but at the same time they made it clear that this is not necessarily how they would vote at the upcoming general election."

Mark Lancaster, Conservative MP for North East Milton Keynes said: "Topping the poll by some margin, it was clearly a good night for the Conservative Party in Milton Keynes, but we take nothing for granted and Conservatives will continue to work hard for the people of the city to try and ensure that we have two MPs and a Conservative controlled council after the next election."

Three legs better than two

Steve Burnett and Charlie Wardle from Climb Your Mountain in training for their marathon three-legged race

FUND-RAISERS will take to three legs to break two world records and help people conquer their mental health issues.

Milton Keynes charity Climb Your Mountain (CYM) is hoping to smash the records for the longest distance three-legged race by two people and for the most three-legged pairs at one time.

The mission will start on Friday, June 26 with CYM founders Charlie Wardle and Steve Burnett starting a three-legged 24-hour marathon.

On their final lap at 4pm on Saturday at Stantonbury Athletics Stadium the second record attempt will start for the most three-legged pairs.

Charlie Wardle, founder of Climb Your Mountain said: "The current world record for marathon three-legged race is 62.5 miles, while the world record for the most pairs is 364. We hope to smash both of these, aiming for 65 miles in the long distance event and with the help of Milton Keynes over 400 pairs of people for the second record.

"CYM has only been going a short time, but the passion shown by the citizens of Milton Keynes so far has been fantastic. By doing these attempts it will allow everyone who participates to become a record breaker."

CYM was created in April 2008 with the idea that physical activity can be beneficial to people suffering with depression, stress, low confidence or other similar problems.

The three-legged race is open to people of all ages. Entry is £5 per person with all proceeds going to CYM.

Participants will receive a commemorative T-shirt, sponsored by David Lloyd Leisure. For more info and an entry form e-mail info@climbyourmountain.org call 01908 231275 or go to www.climbyourmountain.org

Leader makes changes to council cabinet

LIKE the government, Milton Keynes Council is hoping for a fresh start by assigning new roles within its cabinet.

Last night Cllr Sam Crooks, who was elected leader on May 19, was set to announce the portfolios for his Lib Dem front bench.

Cllr Sandra Clark, who faced criticism after children's services were rated as inadequate by Ofsted and abuse was uncovered at the Gatehouse special needs school, holds on to her role as cabinet member for children and schools.

Former transport leader Cllr Chris Williams moves to housing and adult social care, with a remit that includes 'health and wellbeing'.

Cabinet newcomer Cllr Alan Mallyon is put in charge of transport and highways, while Cllr Vanessa McPake remains as lead member for communities.

Cllr Mike Galloway takes up development control and environment, while Cllr Jenni Ferrans is put in charge of community strategy and regeneration.

Cllr Crooks keeps control of the finances while overseeing council resources.

Cash is secured to create festival

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MAJOR new arts festival is coming to Milton Keynes thanks to nearly £500,000 cash from the Arts Council.

The Stables and Milton Keynes Theatre and Gallery are celebrating a £462,000 boost to develop a new biennial international arts festival.

The money will help finance a two-week international programme of theatre, dance, performance art, art installations, music, promenade concerts and events across the city, many of which will be free.

Sally Abbott, Director of Arts at Arts Council England, South East, said: "The arts are an important part of people's quality of life and at the Arts Council we want more people to benefit from the inspiration they can offer.

"This investment will help to do that while further defining Milton Keynes as a vibrant hub for arts and culture."

The idea was developed by Monica Ferguson, Chief Executive of The Stables, Anthony Spira, Director, and Katherine Sorenson, Head of Marketing at Milton Keynes Gallery; and Elizabeth Adlington, Chief Executive of Milton Keynes Theatre.

They wanted to unite the city's arts organisations under a common goal and the festival is set to be piloted in July 2010.

Mrs Ferguson said: "Milton Keynes is one of the fastest growing cities in the UK and we are thrilled that the Arts Council has decided to support the development of the city's cultural infrastructure in this way.

"Our vision is for a biennial festival of international arts that raises the artistic adventure of Milton Keynes, surprising its residents and visitors and providing a creative springboard for future artistic engagement."

The Stables is recruiting for a producer to help shape the festival.

Men jailed for New Year attack

TWO robbers have been jailed for attacking a taxi driver on New Year's Day.

Warren Heller, 23, of Ashford Crescent, Grange Farm, and James Walsh, 22, of Vauxhall, Bradville, were sentenced at Huntingdon Crown Court last Monday.

Heller was jailed for two years and seven months, while Walsh received 18 months.

The men got into a taxi in Heelands at 5.55am on January 1 and asked the driver to take them to Garwood Crescent in Grange Farm.

When they arrived at their stop both males viciously assaulted the driver and stole his Personal Digital Assistant and car keys, before running away.

Both men were arrested within days of the offence and pleaded guilty to robbery.

'Wind alley' mast concerns

WIND farm developers are set to build a mast to test wind speeds on fields near Stoke Goldington.

Ecotricity has submitted an application to construct a 70m high meteorological monitoring mast at Salcey Green, Stoke Lodge Farm to Milton Keynes Council.

The green energy company is interested in erecting 18 wind turbines between Stoke Park Wood and the M1.

Anti-wind campaigners say the plans, which could be the fourth wind farm to be built north of Milton Keynes, will turn the countryside into a 'wind alley'.

Make a splash this summer

WOLVERTON's outdoor pool has reopened for the summer.

The heated pool, which is 43-years old, has opened for another season as the development deal behind plans to build an Olympic length pool, a new building for Radcliffe School and hundreds of houses collapsed in January because of the recession.

The proposals include building a new health centre on the outdoor pool's Aylesbury Street West site. The council is still working on options to take the project forward.

For information on the pool's opening hours and charges visit www.wolvertonpool.com, or call 01908 322200.

Archway gets the green light

A STEEL archway is to be built in Bletchley's town centre.

The art work, by Mark Haywood, is to be constructed in Stanier Square and will be in the shape of two interlocking archways that make a third.

The design proportions have been inspired by the mathematical logic of Alan Turing, who worked as a code breaker at Bletchley Park.

Permission was granted for the 3.75m high sculpture by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee on Thursday (May 28).

It will provide a framed view of Queensway through the trees surrounding the area.

The piece, commissioned by the Bletchley Development Board through Public Art funds, is part of the Bletchley regeneration scheme run by Milton Keynes Council.

A spokesman for the council said the artist will start the project in his workshop this summer and the arch should be in place by end of year.

Top school pupils hit by swine flu

Stowe closed but boarders stay on to sit their exams

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A BOARDING school has been closed after pupils were diagnosed with swine flu.

Stowe School, near Buckingham, closed on Friday after the first student was confirmed to be suffering from the virus.

On Saturday a statement was released on the independent school's website that two more cases had been confirmed while three other pupils with flu-like symptoms all tested negative.

The school will remain closed until 7pm on Sunday, June 14, with boarding pupils sitting public exams being allowed to stay under controlled conditions when taking their papers, providing they are showing no flu-like symptoms.

A total of 650 pupils and over 450 staff and families were screened on Friday and over 1,100 doses of Tamiflu were dispensed, with arrangements made for 500 pupils to return home.

Stowe School near Buckingham: Three confirmed cases of swine flu

Screening and dispensing is continuing over the next few days. House matrons are checking daily pupils who are at school for an exam and any who are symptomatic are isolated in the Medical Centre before going home.

Dr Anthony Wallersteiner, headmaster of Stowe said on Friday: "We are taking all the measures necessary and are continuing to be advised by the HPA and the PCT.

"I understand that it is a stressful and worrying time for those pupils who are taking public exams which are so important for their futures. I want to reassure them, and their families, that extra measures and precautions are being taken to ensure we minimise every possible risk of any spread of infection.

"We also understand the concern to the local community, but we wish to reassure them as far as possible that we have been advised that there is no risk to them directly. Any indirect risk to them is minimal and there is no need for alarm."

The total number of swine flu cases in the UK has topped 550, according to the Health Protection Agency (HPA). The first case in Milton Keynes was confirmed last month.

Casino plan back in the spotlight

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A LAST-DITCH attempt was made last night to stop planners bidding for a Las Vegas style casino in the city centre.

Developers from the Xscape centre were originally given the all-clear after successfully responding to objections at a special planning meeting.

The decision meant that the city centre was one step closer to having its own casino and hotel which could dominate the skyline, house more than a hundred slot machines and offer cash prizes of up to £4,000.

But as MK NEWS went to press last night Cllr Catriona Morris, who called-in the decision, asked councillors to rescind the decision so it can be reconsidered by the Development Control Committee.

Cllr Morris said: "I feel passionately that this is the wrong building and the Development Control Committee didn't have the right information."

She wants a more detailed report on parking standards, retail impact and the height of the hotel.

If successful, Xscape Milton Keynes Limited would face a bidding war for the city's first major casino but is expected to face stiff competition from developers keen to use other areas including the Denbigh stadium site and the Leisure Plaza.

Awards for police officers and public

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

RISKING injury to save lives, quick-thinking under pressure, dealing with dangerous sex offenders – heroic police and residents have been recognised by the city's police commander.

Fourteen people were applauded by colleagues and family as they collected certificates of commendation from Chief Superintendent Alan Baldwin on Thursday night.

Alongside the officers stood 33-year-old Bletchley resident Colin McCarthy, whose actions saved the life of a woman threatening to jump from a bridge.

Chief Superintendent Alan Baldwin is flanked by PC Steve Cann and Bletchley resident Colin McCarthy who jointly saved a woman from jumping off a bridge over A5

On April 3, an overdose patient escaped hospital and headed for a bridge over the A5 in Milton Keynes.

"I was just driving home when I saw the lady climb over the barrier on the bridge," Colin told MK NEWS.

"I called the police and PC Cann arrived on his own.

"He grabbed her and I grabbed the other arm.

"I was shaken up afterwards but you have to stop to help - you would regret it if you didn't."

Inspector Jim Willis praised PC Steve Cann for putting himself at risk and Colin for helping to save a vulnerable individual from death.

Roger Kent was commended for exemplary work developing a team for the Violent and Sex Offenders Register.

Detective Inspector Neil Dodds said: "Milton Keynes houses some of the most problematic and dangerous sex offenders, both in accomodations and in the community.

"Mr Kent is responsible for the management of these individuals when they're released from prison.

"His professionalism, integrity and knowledge of this high risk area ensures the Milton Keynes community is a safe place."

DI Dave Dachtler, PC Ben Waite, PC Christina Wragg and PC Jon Brett, were commended for saving a man who was hanging himself from a bridge in September.

They could not pull him back up so they parked a van underneath and made the decision to cut the rope to save his life.

Chief Superintendent Alan Baldwin said: "I am extremely proud to have so many deserving police officers, staff and members of the public to award commendations to.

"It is a clear indication that Milton Keynes is a place where people truly care about where they live and work and they are committed to doing what they can to make it a better place for everyone.

"You're really talking about the creme de la creme of officers here."

PC's Christopher Jones, Thomas Barcham, Bramham Jones and Gareth Golds were rewarded for their courage after they dangled from a second story window in Heelands, holding onto a man who tried to jump.

PC Sharon Bunce was recognised for her investigation of a case involving allegations of sexual harassment and sexual assault on a woman by a co-worker.

Also commended were Lesley Mellor, Martin James, Chris Frank, Margaret Nicholls and DC Matthew Darnell.

The event was held at the Sikh Temple in Leadenhall to mark the completion of a major project funded by a £10,000 grant from the lottery distributor 'Awards for All', building classrooms and conferencing facilities.

Youngsters on the safety trail around Hazard Alley

SCHOOLCHILDREN will get the chance to think safety first.

More than 5,000 pupils will take a trip to Hazard Alley at the MK Safety Centre where pupils are guided around life-sized scenarios to learn important safety messages and life skills.

The visits are being made possible thanks to funding from Milton Keynes Council which will cover the entry fee and travel for 5500 pupils in years 3 and 6.

The tour includes messages on fire, home safety, the internet, roads, rail, water, farms, the recovery position and personal safety, as well as the consequences of crime like shop theft, anti-social behaviour and vandalism.

Children will be able to learn about health and safety in an interactive, fun and memorable way.

Jan Alder, centre manager, said: "I am delighted that all MK Primary schools can now be assured of the opportunity to benefit from our unique delivery of safety messages for the next 3 years."

The council funding will also provide follow up classroom sessions for the year 6 pupils, as well as a classroom input for pupils in year 2 before they visit the centre in year 3.

Bags of cash for recycling trash

SINCE 2007, two lucky households each week have won £100 just for recycling.

Pink sacks containing, blue boxes, or green garden waste bin are all 'winning tickets' which council officers look for when visiting households.

Every week two addresses are chosen randomly by computer.

Recycling officers then visit the winning address on the morning of collection to check sacks, bins or boxes are set out correctly on the boundary of the property and contain the correct items non-recyclable items which often 'contaminate' sacks include; carrier bags, drinks cartons and plastic packaging such as ice cream tubs and food trays.

Sadly, of the addresses chosen only half get their winnings and the cash ends up being awarded to their neighbours.

Often the winner is not recycling or lives in a street where residents pile up sacks so they don't know who it belongs to.

In this event they move down the street to the left, checking neighbour's bins until a winner is found.

Milton Keynes Council in conjunction with its sponsors Community Waste and SERCO are keen to see everyone recycling.

Councils face rising costs and fines for burying rubbish because landfill sites produce greenhouse gases. Recycling helps us to keep everyone's taxes down and tackle climate change. By funding a cash incentive scheme they hope to encourage people who might not normally bother and reward the people who are already setting a good example in their area.

To find out more about the Cash for Trash scheme, see the gallery of recent winners, and check out the rules in full, visit www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/cashfortrash

Help predict what the future holds...

BY ROB GIBSON

SCHOOLCHILDREN have been invited to get creative and imagine what Milton Keynes Hospital will look like in the future.

Youngsters aged between six and 11 have been challenged to help mark the Silver Anniversary of Milton Keynes Hospital by designing posters and writing poems.

The hospital has expanded rapidly since planners listened to the 1970s campaign, 'Milton Keynes is Dying for a Hospital' and the hospital first opened its doors in 1984.

Now it has 563 beds, employs over 3,000 staff and provides a broad range of general medical and surgical services, for around 300,000 people every year.

Some of the winning poems and posters will be displayed on the hospital website, in the hospital and in MK NEWS, and prizes include party tableware, a Daytona Milton Keynes gift voucher, and 10 Cineworld cinema passes.

To help make their poems and posters, the hospital is asking children to think about:

What will the hospital look like in another 25 years? What new technology will be in place? What will the nurses' uniforms be like? What will ambulance of the future look like?

Ward computer in the early years at the hospital

HOW TO ENTER

■ To enter, ask your teacher if you can take part and they will either collate all the entries and send them to the hospital, or you can submit your entry to: Anna Pryor, Membership Officer, Oak House, Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, FREEPOST RLXB-TUUR-JCLS, Standing Way, Eaglestone, Milton Keynes, MK6 5LD.

There are three categories: Years one and two (ages six and seven), three and four (ages eight and nine), five and six (ages 10 and 11).

The poster or poem can be on A4 or A3 paper, and the poem should not be more than 20 lines. Submissions should include your name, age, class and address or school on the reverse.

Deadline for entries is noon on Friday, 26 June. Find out about the history of Milton Keynes Hospital by visiting www.mkhospital.nhs.uk/about/silveranniversary.asp

Milton Keynes COLLEGE

Student VIPs Shine at College Awards

MK College Student of the Year winner Richard Edwards celebrates with the trophy.

Milton Keynes College Students of the Year 2009-2010 Award Winners celebrate their achievement with college Vice Principal, Rob Jones (back centre). The overall Student of the Year winner was Richard Edwards (front centre), who is studying for his National Diploma for IT Practitioners.

Milton Keynes College celebrated its annual Students of the Year Awards last night in glittering style.

The popular event celebrated the achievements of 20 outstanding students selected from each of the College's curriculum areas. With dazzling student performances, snapping paparazzi, a gallery of elegantly dressed guests, and the all-important golden envelope, you'd be forgiven for thinking that the Oscars had come to town.

In a rousing finale, Richard Edwards was revealed as the overall Student of the Year winner for his outstanding achievements while studying for his National Diploma for IT Practitioners. His award was met with a spontaneous standing ovation and a superstar reception. Lloyds TSB proudly sponsored the young web designer's nomination and Chair of Governors, Francesca Skelton was delighted to present Richard with the coveted trophy.

Earlier this year, Richard was selected in the squad to represent the UK in Web Design at WorldSkills, an Olympics style international competition dedicated to finding the world's top performers in a range of different work skills. Richard is going forward for final team selection in June, which will hopefully secure him a place to compete for the UK on an international level at the WorldSkills Competition in Canada later this year.

"This is the highlight of our College calendar" beamed Vice-Principal Rob Jones. "It's an event where we can celebrate the shining achievements of our students. They have been chosen by staff and peers for demonstrating excellence and dedication to their chosen career path, supporting others, and promoting the good of the College in the wider community. They are all truly inspirational."

"We believe that all our students are VIPs" added Chris Rice, College Marketing Manager. "We've seen 20 amazing and inspirational student journeys, and these students are just a cross-section of the 20,000 others at MK College who are positively transforming their lives through education. We're very proud of them all."

Ski-a-thon event is put back until September

THE recession has claimed another victim as the ski-a-thon has been delayed due to businesses pulling their teams out.

The Spinal Injuries Association was set to hold the UK's first ski-a-thon on the slopes of the SNO!zone in Xscape, Central Milton Keynes on Saturday, June 13.

The national charity, based in Oldbrook, needed 45 teams of skiers and snowboarders to take part in the 12-hour endurance challenge.

The charity announced on Friday that the event would be delayed until September 12 as a large number of teams from businesses across the UK pulled out with only a few weeks to go, leaving a fundraising shortfall.

A spokesman said: "The businesses generally cited concerns of raising £120 sponsorship per team member, which when Gift Aided, works out to £800 of funds raised per team of six.

This aligns with current national fundraising trends which show an overall fall in business support for charities, while support from individuals rises."

With the help of the local community, other charities, the armed forces and schools who are keen to join the event the ski-a-thon will come back even bigger in September with capacity upped to 100 teams.

Teens love music and hate racism

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN OPEN audition evening will give young musicians a chance to take part in an anti-racism festival

Auditions for the Love Music Hate Racism event will be held tomorrow (Thursday, June 11) from 6pm to 9pm at Jonathan's Youth Centre in Coffee Hall.

Young people aged 13 to 19 can just turn up and show the judges their talent to perform in the festival held at The Point in Central Milton Keynes on July 18.

The event, run by Milton Keynes Council Youth Service and returning to the city for its second year, aims to celebrate diversity and involve young people in anti-racist and anti-fascist activity.

Maria Cameron, event co-ordinator said: "Music is living testimony to the fact that cultures can and do mix and Love Music Hate Racism is a vibrant celebration of our multicultural and multiracial society.

"Whether you're in a band or a solo artist, whether you're into Rock, Hip Hop, Drum n Bass, Rap, Bhangra, Reggae, Punk, Grime, R&B, send us your CD or an internet link where we can hear your work and we'll do our best to find you a slot on the night."

Auditionees can bring their own equipment but an electronic drum kit, one electric guitar, one keyboard, two microphones and a sound system will be available to use.

For more information call Maria Cameron on 01908 252040 or email maria.cameron@milton-keynes.gov.uk.

PARKLIFE

Take a stress-busting family walk in the park

AS the days grow longer take advantage of the extra light by bringing the whole family for a short relaxing evening walk with The Parks Trust.

Always rushing around? Stressed after a busy day at work and fed-up of sitting in front of the television or computer?

The Parks Trust has organised a series of family walks in the early evening to give parents and grandparents the opportunity of winding down and spending quality time with their family.

Guided by a park ranger the walks are planned to take a short circuit through a local park each month. You can come to one or all walks and make it a regular opportunity for your family to spend some time together in the fresh air.

Each walk will be at a leisurely and social pace, allowing you to meet other parents and children, feed the ducks, take a look at the scenery or watch a little wildlife.

It will last approximately one hour and will be suitable for all abilities, wheelchairs, prams and all ages.

Claire Lewis, park ranger and walk leader, commented: "With busy lives, after school clubs and a host of demands placed on the modern family many people don't get the opportunity to take time out together and explore their local woodland, countryside or park.

We wanted to give families the chance to relax and enjoy themselves outdoors together and to let us take the strain of planning the walk and finding a great location."

The next guided, family walk will take place on Monday 6 July, from 6-7pm at Caldecotte Lake. And will be followed on Monday 3 August, from 6-7pm at Ouzel Valley Park. The walks will cost £1 per adult and children are free.

The walks will take place whatever the weather but please come dressed appropriately.

For further information contact The Parks Trust 01908 255379 or visit www.theparkstrust.com

TASTELIFE

THE SWAN

High St, Woburn Sands
01908 5832004
Review by Andy Handley

THE term gastropub sometimes makes the hair on my neck stand on end, but The Swan at Woburn Sands defies any critical thoughts.

Sitting in the heart of town this traditional-looking building offers a warm welcome and a homely feel.

The main bar leads into a spacious restaurant area with distinctive decor.

The menu is comprehensive with a variety of pub classics and seasonal dishes. The chef's daily specials add that little extra.

With that in mind I chose from a special and took the ribeye steak (£10.95) for my main, served with a wine and mushroom sauce.

The steak was cooked to my liking with a truely chargrilled taste and the sauce was rich, creamy and home made (not a hint of a packet mix).

This was preceded by a pork and cider pate (£4.95)which was coarse and rustic and served with a splendid apricot chutney and warm farmhouse bread.

My dinner guest chose to start with tiger prawns (£4.40) – his expression told the tale as he tucked into light coconut tempura batter – he nearly ended up licking the dish in search of the last of the chilli, coriander and coconut dip, pure heaven he said.

His main course choice of slow-roasted Welsh lamb (£12.95) was a triumph, the shoulder lamb fell from the bone but remained a little pink and was served with sun-dried tomatoes, garlic and rosemary – another clean plate was the result.

Dispite feeling a little full we both opted to try pudding, a healthy strawberry and cream potion for me (they would have been healthy if I hadn't tipped a good sized jug of cream on them) and my fellow diner went for a delightfully large piece of cheesecake, yum.

Apart from the main menu a selection of light-bites are available until 6pm and a fixed priced one, two or three course menu is also on offer.

Food is served from lunchtime through till 10pm, while on Sunday traditional roasts are available.

Eating early on a Wednesday evening, I was suprised how many other diners were out and I was advised it is best to book at peak times over the weekend.

Whether you choose to book or just pop in, I suggest you make a bee-line to The Swan at Woburn Sands.

SIMONDARNELL

HEADS WILL ROLL

Yeah Yeah Yeahs

GIVEN the number of MPs falling on their swords at Westminster recently, this probably wouldn't be the best song to put on the House of Commons playlist at the moment.

To be honest, most of them probably wouldn't even know who the Yeah Yeah Yeahs are anyway, and that's their loss.

So what have we got here, then? Only one of the stand out tunes from their new album, that's what.

It's a bit disco, it's a bit poppy, it's a bit rocky, but most importantly, it's a bit awesome.

The only problem it's got is that it's not very mainstream. Some radio stations won't play it because their listeners won't like it, and others won't play it because their focus groups tell them their listeners won't like it.

But the Internet's a wonderful thing apparently, and if you have a rummage around the video sharing sites, you'll be able to judge for yourself.

Go on, have a listen, and hopefully you'll agree with me that this song's a good 'un. And if you don't agree, well, I won't take it personally this time.

Featuring Sophie Ellis-Bextor

There are things that people simply do not say in everyday conversation.

One of them is 'those guys from Scooter aren't just songwriters, they're storytellers', and another is 'that new Cascada single has really helped me make an important decision regarding the emotional crossroads I've reached.

And do you know why?

It's the Golden Rule of dance music keep the song instrumental, because if you have to employ a singer he or she must NOT sing anything sensible.

The reason for this is simple; if you're spending the night in the Theatre District, all you want to do is dance to the music, not deconstruct the lyrics or get involved in the story that the singer's relating to you.

This song does have a story, such as it is, but only to the extent that if you've been dumped you should try dancing because it'll cheer you up.

Even the title looks like five random words thrown together.

However, as is usually the way, the tune more than makes up for all that, so for all the mockery I actually like this one. Oh well.

New perspective: Sean Hickey

Free lunch? No, free breakfast

BUSINESS people are being invited to a free breakfast and canal boat ride to celebrate Vocational Qualifications Day.

The Milton Keynes Academy has organised the event along the Grand Union Canal from Great Linford on June 24.

The academy, which opens in September, is to specialise in business and enterprise, with a focus on vocational courses, alongside the regular GCSE and A levels.

Sean Hickey of the Milton Keynes Academy said: "We believe there are many paths to success and vocational qualifications are a vitally important one of them."

Local employers are being asked their views and ideas on the skills they'd like to see students achieve at the new Milton Keynes Academy.

Mr Hickey added: "Riding on the canal allows you to see Milton Keynes from a whole new perspective and that's how we want employers to see the new education provision at the Milton Keynes Academy.

"We'll provide employers with loads of information on what we have to offer, plus ways they can help, share their knowledge and benefit their business. In the true spirit of Milton Keynes we are creating a first and we want you to come with us on that journey."

The canal trip starts with breakfast at the Black Horse, Great Linford at 8.30am, followed by the canal trip at 9.30am.

■ To book your place, e-mail shickey@miltonkeynesacademy.co.uk or telephone 01908 802872.

the centre:mk has bags of ideas for growing greener thecentre:mk has shown its green credentials by picking up more awards.

The 60 Best Green Companies in Britain have been revealed in the second Sunday Times Green List.

Uniquely, the Best Green Companies survey takes account of the views of employees - who get to rate their organisation's green credentials - as well as assessing the environmental performance, policies and practices of businesses.

The Sunday Times, working with environmental consultants, Bureau Veritas and market research group, Munro Global, devised the methodology for the competition.

thecentre:mk ranks 13th overall of the greenest businesses in Britain, and finishes fifth in the unique survey of workplace engagement with environmental initiatives.

The shopping centre was praised for having bags of ideas when it comes to being green.

The latest is Big Hanna a hungry addition to the centre which turns leftover food, including meat, into compost. As well as boosting its blooms with its fertile produce, Big Hanna also eats away at thecentre:mk's total waste production, helping it towards its "zero waste" to landfill goal by next year.

Employees report that such environmental targets tend to be achieved the 91% positive green score they give the company beating every other firm on the list.

An extensive rainwater harvesting system is planned, with enough capacity to offset the water used in the male customer toilets.

People are kept abreast of new initiatives through an employee newsletter, environmental e-mails and special events to raise awareness.

Last year, £127,515 was spent on green initiatives.

Robert Goodman, centre director said, "This is fantastic news, over the past year the company has placed a real focus on green issues ensuring that all the staff are engaged in the process.

"The result is a testament to everyone's hard work and passion towards this goal."

New kit for Dons' matchday stewards

MK DONS has announced a new deal with local promotional clothing and merchandise supplier Dread.

We have already seen the outstanding quality of Dread's products through the equipment provided to our safety team."

From their office and manufacturing site in Stonebridge, Milton Keynes, Dread has built an excellent reputation as a leading supplier of corporate, promotional, team clothing and merchandising solutions throughout Europe.

Playing a role in national security

STATE-OF-THE-ART facilities, comprehensively equipped workshops, best-in-breed CADCAM tools, single shift patterns.

Where are we talking about working? Answer: HM Government Communication Centre (HMGCC) in Milton Keynes.

A multi-disciplinary environment which takes in everything from research and design to testing and production, all within an open, friendly and challenging environment.

The technology it develops plays a vital role in ensuring national security.

Andrew joined the Graduate Programme. He said: "The working culture's actually amazing here.

"There really is a relaxed, fun atmosphere in the centre and a real element of work hard, play hard."

Project manager, Dave added: "Here it's not just about what skills you have it's about how you fit in as a person.

"The culture is very professional, but it's also caring and friendly. I was really made to feel welcome straight away and it wasn't long before I fitted right in."

But developing a unique culture is only half the story.

HMGCC also has truly unique capabilities. With recent heavy investment in technology, the business offers one-stop-shop manufacturing covering everything from bare board PCB manufacturing to highly automated environments including assembly and testing, right down to component level. It's small quantity, high quality production at its very best.

> Your opinion has the same weight as somebody who's been here for quite a few years
> – Andrew, who joined HMGCC on the Graduate Programme

In addition, the organisation also offers challenging careers in everything from software design to electronics and support services.

Andrew added: "One of the most amazing things about this organisation is that your opinion has the same weight as somebody who's been here for quite a few years.

"That means I'm able to say what I want without feeling restricted. I really get a chance to contribute to the organisation.

"That's what's so great about it. I feel like I'm doing my small part to protect our national security."

BE A 'PROPERTY PROFESSIONAL'

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.5 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. And more 'green environmental' laws are coming!

For example next year nearly every commercial property with air-conditioning must have an Assessment before the January 2011 deadline.

Applicants are therefore required to train now as multi-skilled 'Property Professionals' to carry out commercial and air-conditioning Energy Assessments and many other roles such as Flood and Fire Risk Assessments, Energy Audits, Insulation Surveys, Property Valuations, Home Condition Reports, Public Buildings Assessments etc.

No previous experience is necessary, training to join this new growth industry can usually be taken around current job at our nationwide training centres approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment and is subsidised. On qualifying start your own energy business, work for other Assessment Providers or be available for potential full or part-time work through our Energy Assessor Panel with earnings of £50 to £1,200 per Assessment.

Ring today for an interview and find out more about a career opportunity in this fast-expanding, new 'green' industry.

We will accurately diagnose your fault before you get into big repair bills...
HUGE SAVINGS

Quality service at affordable prices...

Our customers come from all over the country because of our good name and personal service. Our workshop is not housed behind a flashy reception area where you hand your keys over and your car disappears not to be seen again until you pay your bill. We run an open workshop where the customer is shown what's wrong with their car and you can discuss the solutions with the engineer.

Lions assistant coach Mike New

Lions looking to rebuild around four core players

THERE has been no down-time for MK Lions chief Vince Macaulay who is currently signing up the new roster for next season.

But the task has been made more difficult by the continued uncertainty over where they will start the season.

The Lions had hope to be in arena:mk to start their 2009/10 campaign, but more meetings are due this week gather the progress of the development which neighbours stadiummk.

It is unlikely the arena will be ready in time and the Lions are resigned to playing at Bletchley Leisure Centre for an extra couple of months.

Macaulay told MK NEWS: "The season will start in Bletchley Leisure Centre and if we have to move to the arena mid-season that's what we'll do.

It will be tight but Bletchley Leisure Centre is scheduled to be closed at the end of November but the talks will go ahead and hopefully we will be in our new home soon."

The doubt over where there home is has also left Macaulay undecided on whether he will continue as coach.

Should the Lions move into arena:mk Macaulay will find himself with a number of new responsibilities on his hands, and recognises that could jeopardise the side.

He added: "My decision on whether I coach again next season or not depends on the arena opening. We are still in discussions as to when they will be."

In the meantime all Macaulay can do is build on his team who came ninth in the British Basketball League last year.

It was a disappointing finish for the side especially after collecting their first silverware, the BBL Cup, in 2007.

And it is with that success still in mind that Macaulay has decided to build his team around captain Dru Spinks, Robert Youngblood, Yorick Williams and assistant coach Mike New.

Macaulay said: "We are hopeful of retaining those players. They are the core of the squad who won us the Cup two seasons ago. If we want to get silverware again then they are key. Hopefully we can conclude those talks in the next fortnight.

"It us unlikely that Jason and Tommie Eddie will return to the squad. We are already in discussions for replacements, we need a new point guard to replace Terrell Brown as well.

"I believe Eddie Morrison is our point guard for the future so we will have to be mindful of that in the appointment of the new player."

MILTON Keynes City stayed fourth following a six wicket win over Newport Pagnell.

It was the fifth defeat Pagnell (138-6) have suffered this season a result which keeps them at the bottom of the pile.

Cublington grabbed only their second win of the season away to Aspley Guise. They beat Aspley Guise by seven wickets that was in large part thanks to Greg Jenkins' brilliant bowling.

Jenkins claimed 6-32 as Guise fell to a poor 116 all out.

Howard Sayers then hit 47 as Cublington reached 121-3, winning the game with a maximum.

Eaton Bray are just five points behind leaders New Bradwell following a three wicket win over North Crawley.

Andy Norris had a good day with both bat and ball as he claimed 3-15 to reduce North Crawley to 114-9, the hit 30 to lead Bray to 145-7.

Winslow Town v New Bradwell and Old Bradwell v Elstow were rained off.

Cherwell League

DIVISION ONE

BLETCHLEY Town held off the challenge of Bicester and North Oxford at Manor Fields to claim a share of the points in dramatic style.

Going into the last over the visitors needed just six runs for victory with five wickets in hand, but Ghufran Mohammend held his nerve bowling two Bicester batsmen, with another run out in an over that went for just two runs.

The game was reduced to 22 overs due to rain, and Town went into bat but struggled to a total of 134-9.

The innings meant the bowlers would be key to any result for Bletchley who took a wicket in the second over when James Clark removed Yates for four.

A partnership of 54 between opener Daryl Woods (61) and Nick Moorman (22) looked set to take Bicester to victory. When Moorman was run out by Mark Roberts, the visitors needed just 21 from five overs. With time running out, Fitzsimons was also run out before Mohammed's last over drama, which saw him bowl Rafiq and West, and end Woods' stay with a run out.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford suffered a heartbreaking one run defeat at home to title favourites Finedon.

The innings were reduced to 38 overs a side and Stony would have been thinking victory was theirs when they dismissed Finedon for 99 runs.

Steve Bellow produced his best performance of the season with the ball as he took 5-24.

Stony's innings got of to a good start when Dion Ebrahim and Nick Allen put on 31 for the first wicket but soon the score went from 51-1 to 52-4.

The nervy end came when Stony had lost nine wickets but managed to scramble a couple of singles to get to 98 before Oswin Peter was caught behind just one short of the total.

Vettel leads the pack from pole on the first lap of the Turkish GP

Vettel rues mistake

MOTOR RACING

JENSON Button appears to be running away with the World Championship, but Red Bull Racing are fighting tooth and nail to stay on his heels.

Sebastian Vettel looked good to close the gap, but an error of the first lap in the Turkish Grand Prix earned him the unwanted record of the first driver to start on pole and not win on the Istanbul track.

The German misread turn nine, and was well wide as he approached turn ten, which Button took full advantage of to take the lead.

And with Button flying the battle was between Vettel and team mate Mark Webber was for second place.

It was Vettel who won it to match his best finish of the season.

Webber was pleased with the result after gaining two positions from his starting place, he said: "A good race. I knew I had to hang in there for as long as possible in the first stint. It worked out pretty well and I managed to go a lap longer and save fuel, which helped me gain some time.

"Both Sebastian and I knew that first place was gone and it was about who would finish behind Jenson. The second stint was crucial,

"I had to push really hard. When you're on a different strategy, the other guy is almost invisible until after the pit stops, but it turned out well for us and my engineer kept me updated with what was happening.

"I did enough in the middle stint to be able to jump Sebastian at the pit stops. Then, at the end we turned the engine down and brought the car home."

While Webber was happy, Vettel could not hide his disappointment at missing out on the opportunity to gain ground on Button, he is now 32 points adrift from the championship leader.

Vettel said: "It was my mistake, it was extremely difficult there and I nearly did the same on the second lap. It was quite tricky, but I think without that there wouldn't have a big difference, as Jenson was too quick today. After that I thought the strategy might swap to a two-stop plan, but it didn't. I got caught behind Jenson who was heavier in the second stint and that allowed Mark to get ahead. Nonetheless, a good result for the team and I think we can be satisfied with second and third."

School joins Dons Trust initiative

FOOTBALL EDUCATION

MK Dons Sport and Education Trust have launched a new learning initiative with Radcliffe School.

Double Club combines curriculum time football themed lessons with double sessions to include football coaching.

Twelve year eight pupils from The Radcliffe School are the first to take part in the 40 hour programme which uses football to brush up on their literacy skills. Additional secondary schools will join the scheme in the autumn term.

As part of the scheme, which began at Arsenal nine years ago, a room at the school has been branded with Dons pictures and signed shirts.

The pilot lesson took place on Friday, with Dons skipper Dean Lewington attending for the pupils to interview.

The defender revealed he doesn't have an interest in moving into management, and spoke about his proudest moments in football.

The Double Club programme has been taken to the Milton Keynes school by the Trust and Milton Keynes Council Extended Services in partnership the Department for Children Schools and Families.

John Cove, MK Dons SET chief executive, said: "This shows how powerful football and sport is in helping to raise standards of attainment and achievement."

Double Club programme has been successfully used to engage students in a variety of curriculum areas including modern foreign languages, numeracy and literacy.

Incentives and rewards are provided for the pupils in the form of stadium visits in MK and the Emirates stadium in London and study sessions in the Playing for Success Centre.

ATHLETICS

THREE of Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club's top runners were in action over the weekend competing for Great Britain at the International Meeting in Geneva.

Craig Pickering finished third in the 100m A race in a time of 10.31 seconds with a slight following wind and then ran the second leg for the victorious 4x100m team .

Making light of a brisk headwind Kadi-Ann Thomas won the B 100m in 11.81s which she followed with fourth in the 200m.

Thomas ran the second leg for the winning 4x100m relay team who stormed through in 43.33s.

In the B 400m Chris Clarke showed good form taking third place.

Meanwhile in Sheffield long jumper Greg Rutherford showed good speed by winning the 100m in 10.48s.

With Thomas competing elsewhere MMKAC went into their debut in division one of the UK Women's League without one of their stars.

But Joey Duck was on hand to win the 100m in 11.8s, while Susan Tengatenga came in third with 12.7s.

The 4x400m relay squad of Sophie Wilkins, Bea Swords, Lauren Cripps and Hannah Douglas then shattered a 17 year old club record with a time of three minutes 58seconds.

Score and stadium impress England U21s boss Pearce

STUART Pearce has backed Milton Keynes to be a host city if England win the 2018 World Cup bid.

The England Under-21 manager watched his side hammer Azerbaijan 7-0 at stadiummk on Monday night and only had positive words to say about the venue.

Pearce, a former England captain, told MK NEWS he believes Milton Keynes would be a good host for the biggest football competition and singled out chairman Pete Winkelman for praise, he said: "On what I've seen yes, the infrastructure's great.

I picked up a league game there at the end of the season against Leicester and the one thing that impressed me was he (Winkelman) walked through the concourse with me and he seemed to know everybody in the ground by first name. There's not many chairman that can boast that."

He added: "It's a great model of a football club there, I think he's a good chairman and he's full of passion for the game, so credit to him. Football's taking of in Milton Keynes at the moment and the club are a big focal point of that community."

It was a community that embraced the Under-21s visit as 12,020 fans attended England's final warm-up game ahead of their European Championships.

Although putting seven unanswered goals past Azerbaijan showed the match was never much of a contest.

England dominated throughout with Michael Mancienne setting the standard of the evening as he lashed in the first goal after just 48 seconds.

West Ham's Mark Noble's then had a slice of luck when his shot rebounded off the post and hit the back of goalie Elchin Sadigov to make it 2-0.

Then England showed they were a class above their opponents when Craig Gardner struck a brilliant volley and Azerbajain scored another own goal. Arsenal's Keiran Gibbs, having set up Gardner's goal, opened his account with England on the 64th minute and doubled his tally five minutes later.

The evening was capped off with a seventh strike in injury time from Jack Rodwell.

With their first game of the Euros on Monday Pearce was more than happy with his side's performance.

He said: "As a manager you can't ask for any more than that, we kept a clean sheet, scored seven goals. One or two of them have put great performances on especially the youngsters that have come in late."

Walsall ace signs on free

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

WALSALL striker Jabo Ibehre is about to follow in the footsteps of Dan Woodards and sign for MK Dons.

Ibehre has turned down a new deal at the Banks's Stadium in favour of a move to stadiummk where he believes there is a shot of Championship football.

The 26-year-old has been in talks with the Dons and the contract is set to be tied up in the next 24 hours.

Ibehre, who scored in Walsall's 1-0 at stadiummk in April, will join Roberto Di Matteo's side on a free transfer after spending a year with the Saddlers.

On Monday Woodards became Di Matteo's first signing of the summer when he moved from League Two outfit Crewe.

The versatile defender regularly featured as right-back but is equally comfortable on the left or centre of defence, as well as right midfield, and is seen as the perfect replacement for Carl Regan, who joined League One rivals Bristol Rovers last week.

The 25-year-old made 94 appearances for the Railwaymen in two and a half years, yet preferred to move to Milton Keynes when his deal expired.

Woodards has targeted promotion with the Dons as the reason behind the switch. He said: "I'm excited to be joining the club and I'm relishing the chance to help the team win promotion to the Championship and I'm looking forward to meeting all the lads.

"I definitely think promotion is a realistic ambition - personally, I thought the team should've done it last season but if everyone's still got the belief and the hunger for it then it should be easy.

"It's a nice stadium, I've seen the fans here and they're a good crowd, they seem to be behind the team and that helps. I spoke to a few people before signing with the club and they all just said good things, I want to be a part of that and everything seems right."

His two-year deal at the Dons will begin on July, 1.
